Chinese 2 中文二 2017-18 学年

You are an American exchange student living in the dormitory of Beijing University. You are writing an email in Chinese to your friend who lives outside of the campus. In your email, you will mention (1) How is the weather forecast in the coming days in Beijing (see Picture A). (2) You'd like to invite your friend to lunch to a Chinese restaurant you've heard that is really good. Tell your friend what is good about the restaurant; what Chinese dishes it offers and that you know your friend's food preference so you think your friend and you will both like the restaurant. (Picture B: Your Menu) (3) Tell your friend to meet you at the campus café and advise him/her where the café is relative to other campus buildings. You will both walk from the café to the school metro bus station to take a bus to the Beijing Railway Station. You tell your friend that the restaurant is not very far from the Railway Station. Describe how to get to the restaurant from the Beijing Railway station (see Pictures C & D).
